

HOW TO INSTALL:

Extract the files to a folder, then double-click the ATN, ABR, GRD and PAT files to install them in Photoshop.

Type	Name	Date
 ATN File	Light Streak Text Effect.atn	10/11/2020 16:00
 ABR File	LSTE-Brushes.abr	09/11/2020 19:37
 GRD File	LSTE-Gradients.grd	10/11/2020 17:02
 PAT File	LSTE-Pattern.pat	09/11/2020 19:36
 Microsoft ...	Quick Guide.pdf	10/11/2020 16:08

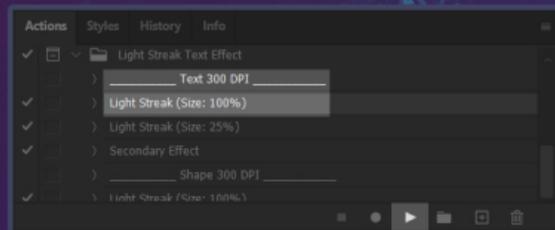

You can also use the following panels to install the files in your Photoshop:

- Window > Actions
- Window > Patterns
- Window > Brushes
- Window > Gradients

After installed, you will only interact with the Actions and Gradient Panels, so don't worry about the other panels.

HOW TO RUN THE ACTION:

Make sure your document is 300 dpi and will fit the text with a size of 282 pt. Write your text and choose your font, then go to the Actions panel and click on Light Streak (Size 100%). After that click on the Play icon.

Both 100% and 25% sizes requires the same document size and resolution.

HOW TO EDIT:

After you run the action, you will want to choose the colors. To do that, double-click on the icon of the Colors - Gradient Map layer, then click on the gradient bar.

The Gradient Editor will open. Now go to the Light Streak Text Effects Gradients and choose one that you like.

Note that some layers in the Light Streak Effect folder have a mask, don't forget that you can use that to hide or show some parts of the effects.

To activate the alternative result version of the action, all you have to do is to enable the Base layer.

The secondary effect is a simple text effect that looks good with an interlaced effect. Check the video tutorial if you wanna learn how to do that.

That is it, if you have any question, feel free to ask me on the item's page or my email: aand3rr@gmail.com